

Each desk has a chair for company.
Under fluorescent lights and surrounded by sealed windows. A printer sits in the corner of the room and is the subject of many office conversations.

The air circulates through lungs and vents.